With Aveva's Clinic Management Software, you can consolidate data from multiple sources. Manage everything from patient intake through to reporting. Create ad hoc modules for emerging or unknown outbreaks. Get an EHR that collects only the information you need and supports only the capabilities you need. Aveva improves your decision-making with real-time information and frees your staff to focus on their crucial work.

Give your programs the most advanced and flexible solutions. Consolidate your data. Pinpoint trends and emerging outbreaks.

Full Clinic Support

Aveva not only supports all your clinical functions, electronic health records collection, patient engagement, notifications, and two-way communications via a patient portal, but also can be set up to support investigations. The software will automatically build cluster diagrams, associate contacts, identify emerging outbreaks, tie directly to the patient records and so much more.

Aveva Means Flexibility

Aveva software is designed to be fully configurable and unlike competitor's "Here's the software, fit your program into our framework," we begin by asking "What does your workflow look like and how would you like it organized to meet your optimal operational needs?"

Public Health Focused EHR

Aveva brings you the EHR features your agency needs — minus the costly components meant for hospitals and large medical practices.
